Prospectus for Exhibits

Call for 2D & Wall Relief Works Artful Antics Exhibition Opportunities
April 27 - October 30 2019

The Patchogue Arts Council calls for two - dimensional and wall hung relief work that embodies the spirit of this years festival season - Artful Antics. Artists are asked to submit works that are inspired by the seasons guiding themes of whimsy, humor, joy, and play. Works will be considered for a number of different exhibition venues that are incorporated into the Artful Antics Festival Season 2019.

Prospectus for Performances & Costumes

Call for Poets, Performances & Costume Artists - Artful Antics Kickoff event
April 27, 2019

The Patchogue Arts Council rolls out its Artful Antics themed summer festival season with a 'Promenade' which takes for its inspiration the Ballets Russe' s groundbreaking work of 1917 'Parade.' Costuming and set for the performance were designed by noted cubist Pablo Picasso. It was for 'Parade' that the term surrealism was coined. Other notables associated with 'Parade' were choreographer Sergei Diaghilev and composer Erik Satie. 'Parade' was based on a scenario developed by future surrealist film maker Jean Cocteau. The performance captures the themes of PAC's Artful Antics summer festival; whimsy, humor, joy and play. Before long others would be creating similar pieces, one such being The Triadic Ballet created by Bauhaus artist Oskar Schlemmer.

Street performers, poets and costume artists whose work can be described as whimsical, humorous, joyful or playful or takes as its inspiration the art movements of Dada, Cubism, Surrealism and the Bauhaus are asked to submit proposals for creative costuming and performance. Artists who are selected to join in the 'Promenade' will receive an honorarium.
