Collected is a group exhibition at the Patchogue Arts Gallery that addresses the rarely considered role of the art collector. Curator John Cino selected works by Robert Bery, Dawn Lee, Malcolm Morley, Jeff Muhs, Alexandra Pacula, and William Shillalies for this exhibit from a private collection. The exhibit will be on view January 12 through February 24, 2019. Join us for the opening reception this Saturday, January 12, from 5:00 - 7:00 PM.

Collectors have an essential place in the art world. Their financial support and encouragement of working artists are critical for maintaining the health of the visual arts in democratic society. The eclectic selection of works featured in the Collected exhibition has both representational and abstract works which might have formal characteristic similarities.
